

Latest on Donations

Our ambition for donations here depends largely on the goodwill of our visitors but it also partly depends on how well the books will be received when they're published.

I will keep you posted on progress in general and on the publication of the first book and how well it's doing. The second book will be almost entirely dedicated for collecting donations. The publishers have pledged to donate some of the royalties of the second book too.

I must also mention that the Service Provider has put this site together at their own expense.

With so much kindness, I'm optimistic that we will achieve our ambition to beat Cancer.